TWENTY-FIVE YEARS IN BUSINESS

P. B. Willits & Co., Druggists, Celebrate Their Silver Jubilee Of Establishment

A quarter of a century is a long span of time, and in the ever-growing and progressing West it implies many sweeping changes, especially in the ranks of business firms, so that it is rare enough to be matter for comment when a commercial enterprise can record a continuous history of twenty-five years. Among the few firms in Kelowna that have attained this distinction is that of P. B. Willits & Co., which celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary on December 1st.

Mr. P. B. Willits, the founder of the popular and highly respected firm of druggists, came to Kelowna on February 28th, 1902, and entered the employ of the pioneer merchant firm of the city, Lequime Bros. & Co., of which Mr. E. Weddell, now Police Magistrate, was one of the principal partners. With Mrs. B. F. Boyce as silent partner, he opened a drug store on December 1st, 1903, in the premises opposite the C.P.R. passenger station, now occupied as a barber shop. The original style and title of the firm was Boyce & Willits, but about a year later it was changed to that which it has borne through all the subsequent years.

In August, 1905, the present location on the south-west corner of Bernard Avenue and Pender Street, was purchased from Mr. H. E. Wallis, who was the pioneer druggist of Kelowna, and on January 1st, 1906, Mr. G. A. McKay purchased the interest of Mrs. Boyce and became the "E. Co." and an equal partner in the business.

The premises, originally erected by Mr. Wallis were occupied until 1913, when the building was moved temporarily to the opposite corner of Pender Street until erection of the handsome and commodious business block which succeeded it was completed in October of that year, when the old building underwent a second move, this time to Ellis Street, where it now fulfils a useful purpose as the Veterans' Club.

With the great advantage of both partners being qualified and skilled dispensers, the firm has established a wide reputation for care in the filling of prescriptions, and it enjoys the confidence alike of medical men and the general public. Its business has been conducted throughout its long career upon a high plane of commercial ethics and, while there has been nothing sensational or spectacular in its history, its advance in years has been marked by corresponding progress in stability and in public respect.

In order to show their appreciation of the support accorded them, the firm "bought" the Empress Theatre for two days, on Monday and Tuesday of this week, and threw the doors open to all and sundry who cared to accept their invitation. The feature picture was a dramatic and splendidly directed English film, "The Whip," which was enjoyed by large crowds. A matinee was given each day and two performances each evening, and the total attendance at the six performances was estimated at 3,500.

Presentation By Rotary Club
At the Rotary Club luncheon on Tuesday, in the Palace Hotel, Mr. P. B. Willits was presented with a handsome eight-day wall clock from the Club, in recognition of his Rotary qualifications as exemplified during his twenty-five years in business.

The clock, which was supplied by Mr. J. B. Knowles, bore the inscription, suitably engraved:
P. B. WILLITS & CO.
Commemorating twenty-five years
ideal business service
December, 1928
Kelowna Rotary Club

The presentation was made by President H. F. Rees in fitting terms, and reminiscences were given by Mayor Sutherland, Dr. W. J. Knox and Mr. F. M. Buckland, who all expressed in most cordial language their appreciation of the recipient and his partner, Mr. G. A. McKay.

CHINESE STUDENT DIES FOR MURDER OF WIFE
MANCHESTER, England Dec. 6.—Chung Yi Miao, Chinese law student from New York, was executed at Strangeways Jail today for the murder of his bride, Wai Sheung Miao. The young woman was found strangled to death in a wood near Kenwick, England, last June, shortly after their arrival in the country on their honeymoon.

MINISTER OF FINANCE IS INTERVIEWED

Hon. J. A. Robb Gives Attentive Hearing To Case For Glut Duty On Horticultural Produce

Kelowna, December 4, 1928.
On the 28th ultimo a delegation waited upon the Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, in Vancouver, to present to him the sentiment of the Okanagan with regard to the suggested tariff policy on fruit and vegetables. The delegation consisted of Mr. R. H. Macdonald, representative of the Vernon Board of Trade, Mr. H. B. Morley, representative of the Penticton Board of Trade, with the Chairman of the Interior Committee of Direction. They were accompanied by Mr. W. H. Robertson, Provincial Horticulturist, and Mr. L. D. Mallory, Secretary of the B. C. Fruit Growers' Association. The interview lasted about one and one-half hours. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Health, was also present.

The main points stressed were that it was essential that a "glut" duty should be imposed against low priced products resulting from seasons of over-production in the United States or elsewhere; such protection to be based on cost of production in Canada, which should be determined by the Government after due investigation.

The delegation did not suggest any change in general tariffs and made no pronouncement on the seasonal tariff, on the grounds that it had been, or was being, discussed by the Horticultural Council in Ottawa and the delegation was unaware of the decisions arrived at.

Attention was also directed to the desirability of the Dominion Government assisting in the opening up of markets overseas, and in that connection a telegram from Mr. J. T. Murrie, at Ottawa, was read concerning the preference now enjoyed by the United States over Canadian apples on German markets, amounting to thirty-eight cents, virtually an embargo due to the "most favoured nations" clause in the German tariff. Hamburg buyers, it was stated, would gladly purchase large quantities of Canadian Jonathans if on the same basis as American, thus relieving the marketing situation very materially.

The Minister, in reply, intimated that complications existed in the German tariff over flour but that these might shortly be ironed out. He also said that Hamburg was a "free port" and that it was the gateway to other countries, including Czechoslovakia, which enjoyed the benefits of the "most favoured nation" treaty.

Reference was also made to the embargo against apples into Australia, and the Minister intimated that he thought it possible to negotiate for the introduction of Canadian apples into that Dominion on some reciprocal basis.

Altogether, it may be said that the delegation had a very cordial welcome and that it is justified in believing that something will be done at the approaching session of the Dominion Parliament for the relief of the fruit and vegetable producers of British Columbia.

DID NOT FARE SO BADLY AT PENTICTON

Kelowna Badminton Players Met Teams From Two Clubs

Mr. H. G. M. Gardiner, President of the Kelowna Badminton Club, wishes to correct the impression conveyed in last week's issue of The Courier, through faulty information, that a local team was rather badly beaten at Penticton recently.

The explanation is that Penticton boasts of two separate and distinct clubs, the Penticton Badminton Club and the Hall Badminton Club. The Kelowna players won from the Penticton Club and lost by a small margin to the Hall Club.

At Kelowna last Saturday, a team from the Penticton Club was entertained by the local club, the visitors losing by the narrow margin of 13 matches to 11.

Next Saturday, December 8th, the Hall Club of Penticton will be visitors here in a return series of games.

An additional playing session has been instituted, Tuesday afternoons having been added to the playing periods.

The following gifts are gratefully acknowledged: Mr. T. O. Hemming, $2; I.O.O.F., $4.

VETERANS TO ERECT NEW BUILDING

Construction Of Suitable Club Premises To Commence As Soon As Weather Permits

At a largely attended meeting of members of the Kelowna Branch of the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, held in the Veterans' Club on Thursday evening, the Building Committee made a report through Comrade O. L. Jones, showing what progress had been made with the project to dispose of the present club premises and to erect a suitable modern building on another site. The building now occupied was erected originally for store purposes and, although remodelled internally at considerable expense, has never been really convenient for use as a club.

After discussion of the data submitted by the committee, a resolution was carried almost unanimously, empowering the Club Committee to accept an offer made for the property, to acquire a suitable site and to proceed with the erection of a building at an estimated cost of $8,000 to $10,000, as soon as the weather will permit.

The Building Committee has made a careful study of requirements, and it is expected that the new building will possess many facilities and conveniences of arrangement in which the present club house is lacking. These will render membership in the Legion considerably more attractive than at the present time, although, due to the results of the reunion dinner held in connection with the tenth anniversary of the Armistice, six new members have been enrolled already, with applications in sight which will bring up the total of new entrants to about thirty. Eight years ago, the Great War Veterans' Association, predecessor of the Legion, possessed a membership of over three hundred, and, with renewed interest evinced in the comradeship offered by membership in the Legion, there is reason to expect that previous records should be exceeded when the new club building becomes available.

ORGAN RECITAL AT FIRST UNITED CHURCH

Special Programme To Be Rendered On Sunday Evening

An organ recital will be given at First United Church on Sunday evening next, at 7 o'clock, by the organist, Mr. Donald Macrae, A.T.C.M. The recital will commence immediately after the first bell and will continue until the regular hour for the evening worship. The second bell, which is tolled at 7:40 p.m., will be omitted on Sunday evening so that the musical programme may proceed uninterrupted.

At the morning service Mr. McMinn will give a follow-up sermon on "The Trial of the Righteous." Last week's message consisted of an account of the trials of Job, and the sermon on Sunday morning will follow the main principles that underlie Job's experience, as these are operative in the New Testament in the life of Jesus and His followers.

The evening sermon will be based on an event in apostolic history which suggests the necessity of a criterion that enables every student of life and thought to exercise value judgments on life and on literature and teaching, and qualifies every man to make a synthesis of truth for himself and work out a sound and satisfying philosophy of life. The subject title is taken from the record of the incident: "Understandest thou what thou readest?"

TEMPERATURE OF KING GEORGE IS LOWER

Crowds Outside Buckingham Palace Cheered By Favourable Tone Of Morning Bulletin

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Buckingham Palace circles let it be known at 4:00 p.m. that the condition of King George had not changed since the bulletin issued earlier in the day by his physicians. Lord Dawson of Penn and Sir Stanley Hewett held a consultation this afternoon at the Palace. About the time of the doctors' afternoon visit, the Queen and Princess Mary went for a drive. The Queen smiled and waved her hand in response to the salutations of the crowd at the Palace gates.

King George's temperature was lower today after a fair night. The bulletin issued by the royal physicians stated:

"The King passed a fair night. His temperature this morning is lower. His general condition is slowly improving and the infective process, which still remains severe, is becoming more localized."

All England was cheered by the favourable tone of the bulletin, and the King's lower temperature, restful night and general improvement caused joy everywhere. It was the most favourable news contained in an official bulletin since the early stages of His Majesty's illness. The crowd that had gathered outside the gates of Buckingham Palace was restrained from cheering only by the fact that the noise might disturb the King.

The physicians' instant mention of severity of infection was the only tempering note in the bulletin, and it curbed extreme optimism somewhat, although much hope was put in the statement that the infection was being localized.

Pleasure was expressed among the members of the royal household with what was regarded as the reassuring nature of the doctors' report. It was pointed out, however, that the progress indicated must necessarily be slow. There was also satisfaction among the King's entourage that the doctors had omitted any mention of anxiety concerning his heart, such as had appeared in several previous bulletins. This was also regarded as a good sign.

There was more than the usual anxiety among the crowd which gathered before the Palace awaiting the morning bulletin, in as much as last night's report had shown that the patient was increasingly feverish and that the infective process was still active. Despite a thick fog, which enshrouded the Palace, there was constant trickle of visitors to the gates throughout the night.

(Received at 3:30 p.m.)
LONDON, Dec. 6.—The King's general condition remains the same as that reported in this morning's bulletin, stated the report issued at 8:20 tonight, which added:

"The localization of infection at the base of the right side of the chest is rather more definite, which conforms to the passage of the illness during the last few days."

Four physicians signed the bulletin.

PRIZES FOR MCINTOSH AT ROYAL WINTER FAIR

Ontario's Share Small Compared With That Of British Columbia

A telegram to The Courier from Mr. C. W. Little, at Toronto, considers that too much has been made in a valley contemporary of the achievements of Ontario in the McIntosh classes at the Royal Winter Fair, in Toronto. Mr. Little points out that there were seven classes for McIntosh, in which the fruit shown by the Associated Growers won five first prizes and six seconds, in addition to a special diploma awarded by the Canadian Horticultural Council for the most outstanding exhibit of McIntosh. As against this, Ontario won two first prizes and one second in the seven McIntosh classes, so Mr. Little pungently adds: "Why the Ontario fuss in our home valley?"

Mr. Little and his two daughters are chiefly responsible for the sweeping success gained by B. C. fruit at the Fair, as he selected it all and they packed it.

CHURCH BAZAAR IS HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

About $800 Realized In Aid Of First United Church School Building Fund

The annual bazaar of the Ladies' Aid of the First United Church was held in the I.O.O.F. Temple on Saturday afternoon, when approximately $800.00 was raised for the Church School building fund. The bazaar was attended by a large number of people and the booths were well patronized. The room was gaily decorated in appropriate Christmas colours of red and green, and the holiday spirit to a most successful and enjoyable occasion.

In addition to the usual number of booths arranged each year, several surprise booths were featured, among them a men's stall conducted by the Rev. A. K. McMinn, assisted by Mr. J. J. Staples. An attraction of this booth, which excited unusual interest, was a guessing contest which was carried on throughout the afternoon. A prize of a rick of wood was awarded to Mr. George Craig, who made the nearest correct estimate of the weight of a piece of wood which weighed twenty-seven pounds, seven and one-half ounces. His guess was twenty-seven pounds, twelve ounces. Mr. A. J. Hughes won a half ton of coal for estimating within one of the correct number of several hundred lumps of coal contained in a wooden box, and Mrs. T. F. McWilliams was awarded "Rachel," a large doll, for successfully guessing its name. A cake was divided among several who correctly guessed its weight.

Booths were in charge of the following members of the Ladies' Aid: apron booth, Mrs. A. W. Badley; children's booth, Mrs. A. K. McMinn; fancy work and general booth, Mrs. D. Macfarlane; white elephant booth, Mrs. G. Laws; home cooking booth, Mrs. W. Lloyd-Jones; candy booth, Mrs. B. McDonald; handkerchief booth, Young People's Society.

SALE OF SEALS AIDS FIGHT AGAINST T.B.

Tiny Little Emblems Of Christmas Greetings Help To Control Dread Disease

Last year the tuberculosis Christmas Seal made its bow to the public of Canada. It met with an immediate and enthusiastic acceptance. Thousands of people in British Columbia bought and used the seals on their Christmas mail. Not only that; hundreds wrote the Tranquille Tuberculosis Society commending the Christmas Seal and urging that its sale be made an annual event. Many mildly rebuked that organization for not having adopted the seal years ago so that the public might have had the opportunity of using on their Christmas mail a purposeful seal, a seal that carried a message of health as well as of Christmas. So they are being sold again this year.

Not infrequently the question is asked: "What percentage of 'cures' does the sanatorium turn out?" The answer, if given in figures, would probably shock the average enquirer, because the general public looks to the sanatorium to cure practically every patient admitted within its doors. It is not generally known or realized that 70 per cent of those admitted for treatment cannot hope to be cured because their disease has advanced beyond the curable stage.

What does this tell us? It tells us that a very special and urgent need exists in British Columbia today, the need to search out people definitely infected with tuberculosis but not sick enough to complain or think of examination. And this is what the Tranquille Tuberculosis Society plans to do—in fact is already doing. A fully qualified nurse, with special training and long experience in T.B. work, has been engaged to work in conjunction with the provincial M.H.O.; who visits all parts of the province, travelling the year round. An X-Ray machine has been purchased so that pictures of chests may be made whenever necessary, and this service, together with expert nursing cards and a follow-up service, will be free to all who are deemed in need of it.

This is the work that is being done by the funds derived from the sale of Christmas Seals—hunting out curable cases of tuberculosis, seeing that they are given proper treatment and care, and returning them to their homes and loved ones no longer invalids but strong and well and able to take their places in a busy world.

The work made possible by the Christmas Seal constitutes what is probably the most forward step in the prevention of tuberculosis yet taken in the province of British Columbia. When this fact is realized by the public the response to the Seal Sale will be better than ever.

KIDNAPPED BOY IS MURDERED

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The body of a boy answering the description of Joseph Storela, seven years old, who was kidnapped from his home on the East side on November 17th, was found today in a dump under a bridge near Secaucus, N. J. Examination of the body showed that the victim's throat had been cut.

When his mother late that night reported him missing, detectives learned that earlier in the day a strange man, wearing a brown suit, had been seen to go for the boy, candy and to ask him to go for a walk. The boy was frightened and ran away from him, his playmate stated.

RECORD VOTE EXPECTED IN VICTORIA BY-ELECTION

VICTORIA, Dec. 6.—The final stage of the strenuous by-election campaign in Victoria to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. S. E. Tolmie on becoming Premier of British Columbia promises one of the biggest votes today ever recorded at a by-election in this constituency. J. D. MacLean, former Premier of the province, has appealed to the electors solely upon local issues, while D. B. Plunkett, Conservative candidate, has dealt with national issues and particularly the tariff.

The Occidental Fruit Co. took fourth prize in the packing house class.

FAMOUS POEM PRESENTED AS DRAMA

St. Andrew's Players, Of Vernon, Give Pleasing Presentation Of Long-fellow's "Hiawatha"

The dramatized version of Longfellow's "Hiawatha," presented by the St. Andrew's Players, of Vernon, in the Empress Theatre on Thursday evening last, was well staged and pleasingly performed, and the applause which followed the fall of the curtain at the close of each scene demonstrated the appreciation of a Kelowna audience.

A large number of players composed the cast, there being, in addition to the principal characters, two score or more Indian braves, maids, squaws, boys, fairies, animals, etc., all of whom enacted their various roles creditably. The outstanding actors were Mr. W. L. Seaton, as Hiawatha, Miss Helen Ferguson, as Minnehaha, and Mrs. Jas. Crawshaw, as Nokomis. Mr. H. Brown, as Mondamin (the impersonation of Indian corn), was also effective.

The story opened with Hiawatha as a child living with his grandmother, Nokomis, and in this scene he killed his first deer, thereby entering into the tribe. The next scene portrayed Hiawatha as a man, in which he wrestled with Mondamin to discover the secret of the Indian corn. Following an unsuccessful attempt, he triumphed over Mondamin and fairies appeared placing corn on the spot where Mondamin had fallen.

The following scenes told of Hiawatha's love for Minnehaha, "Laughing Water, fairest of Dacotahs women," the only child of the lonely old arrow-maker. Then came the famous wedding feast, held when Hiawatha took his bride home to his people. An Indian feast was realistically portrayed with characteristic song, dancing and story-telling. At the conclusion of the feast, Chibiabos, "sweetest of singers" (Mr. B. Gwynne), sang the touching love song "Onaway! Awake, Beloved."

As time went on, famine and fever visited the gentle Minnehaha, and she succumbed to the pangs of hunger. A touching scene followed when Hiawatha, who had gone out into the forests in desperation to hunt for food, returned only to find that his beloved had passed into the land of the hereafter. He expressed his hope of meeting her again in the great beyond, and went on with the stoicism of the Indian in his effort to free his people from their two great enemies, famine and war.

In the closing scene, palefaces appear and Hiawatha hands over his burden to the white man. Singing a farewell song, Hiawatha departs with hands upraised dramatically.

Orchestral selections played an important part in the excellence of the evening's entertainment, "In a Monastery Garden" and "By the Sea" being particularly enjoyable. Selections from Coleridge-Taylor's cantata "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," were sung by St. Andrew's choir, assisted by the orchestra, and the overture to the death of Minnehaha was well played. Other numbers rounded out a well balanced musical programme.

The cast, excluding Indian braves, maids, etc., was made up as follows: Hiawatha, as chief of the Ojibways, Mr. W. L. Seaton; Hiawatha, as a child, Otis Reinhard; Nokomis, grandmother of Hiawatha, Mrs. Jas. Crawshaw; Iagoo, friend of Nokomis, Mr. C. Fulton; Minnehaha, Hiawatha's bride, Miss Helen Ferguson; The Arrow-maker, Minnehaha's father, Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson; Minjekawin, a friend of Minnehaha, Madeline Megaw; Chibiabos, the sweet singer, Mr. B. Gwynne; Paupekwis, the dancer, Mr. C. Stevenson; Mondamin, the impersonation of Indian corn, Mr. H. Brown; The Priest, Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson. Accompanists, Miss Ella Richmond and Mrs. Davidson. Choral leader, Mrs. Mabel Wilcox, A.T.C.M. The drama was directed by Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson, to whom great credit is due for the success of the production.

Stage settings used for backgrounds were appropriately arranged, and the costumes, all of which were obtained in the valley, were unique and striking. In all, Kelowna is indebted to the Vernon players for a very fine entertainment, the proceeds of which will be added to a fund established for the purpose of sending winners at the Okanagan Valley Musical Festival to the British Columbia festival which will be held at Vancouver next spring.

The approximate population of the township of Chilliwack is 5,524 and that of the city 2,061, according to a census taken by Wrigley's Directories Ltd., completed last week. It was generally expected that the population of the municipality would show a larger increase, while in the city the number is slightly in excess of estimates.

Eleven hundred books are available for members of the Vernon Public Library Association which commenced operations on November 3rd and already has a membership of 136. The library is open two days a week, Tuesdays and Saturdays. It is housed in the City Hall and the membership fee is only one dollar.

Rallies: The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall on Monday, the 10th inst., at 7.15 p.m., and the regular basketball practices will be held on the Friday previous, commencing at 4 p.m. There will be two patrol basketball matches at this practice. The Eagles will play the Otters at 8 p.m., and the Owls at 8.20 p.m. The results of the last two matches were: Lynx, 13; Beavers, 6; and Otters, 10; Cougars, 5.
The Lynx not only maintained but increased their lead at the rally last night. The marks were: Lynx, 71; Cougars, 60; Beavers, 56; Otters and Eagles each, 50; Foxes, 31; Wolves, 30; Owls, 26. The Cougars lost 5 for being the last to fall in and the Beavers 3 for noise during the "Freeze." The Lynx won five in the Chain Tag game and the Eagles and Foxes 2 each. The Wolves won 7 for being the second patrol to turn in their donation of 5c each towards the Chief Scout's presentation. The points for the Christmas toys will be announced later. We acknowledge with thanks receipt of more toys for repair and some quite undamaged. If there are still any Scouts in the Troop who have not yet got their toys for repair, they should speak to the S.M. as soon as we have got some which we can turn over to them. We have two mechanical trains with the springs broken, a good repair job for some one, and one which will give us two very fine toys for distribution. Each Patrol will be responsible for securing at least one Christmas Tree.

We hope to have 100 per cent attendance of our Patrol Leaders at the conference in Vernon on Saturday. P.L. Aitken will reply to the address of welcome and P.L.s Weatherill and Dunn will uphold the Kelowna side on the Camp Cook debate. P.L.s Meikle, An-

SEA CADETS

"Pass the word"

Sea Cadet Concert a Financial Success
The Kelowna Sea Cadets have good cause to be grateful to their friends. Now that the concert accounts have been "cleaned up," we have pleasure in announcing that the proceeds exceeded expectations and, as a result, every Cadet can now be supplied with complete uniform. Measurements have been taken, and the order forwarded to headquarters; and in a very short time "Grenvilles" will appear in full rig.

This is an opportune moment to tender our hearty thanks to all those who, in various ways, assisted in making the concert a success. There were some who, literally as well as figuratively, worked "behind the scenes." Like the stokers in a ship in action, they worked hard without seeing much of the fun. To them in particular we extend our hearty acknowledgments.

Need Of A Boat
Having attained our object of mustering complete uniforms, our next goal is a boat. Without this essential item of equipment, those responsible for the training of the Cadets will be seriously handicapped next summer. In order to carry on the seamanship training along logical lines, it is imperative that the boys be given instruction in boatwork, both under oars and under sail. Probably the type of boat most suitable for this purpose would be a ship's lifeboat or a Naval whaler; both are adaptable to either oars or sail, and incidentally any Cadet going to sea is most likely to find one or other of these in use. At present there is not sufficient information to hand as to the possibility of obtaining such a boat, but efforts are being made to ascertain what craft would be available, together with the probable cost.

COMMANDING OFFICER
Co'y 1358, Kelowna Sea Cadet Corps—"Grenville".

dison and Aitken will provide the entertainment item from our Troop at the banquet.

At the Court of Honour on Monday last, Second Dyke Reed was promoted to be Patrol Leader of the Otters and former P.L. Wilfred Marr of the 1st Rutland to be Patrol Leader of the Foxes. Scout Howard Ryan was appointed Acting Second of the Beavers, and Second of the Fox and Otter Patrols will be appointed on Monday next. The application of Scout Jack Treadgold to rejoin was accepted.

The books so kindly donated to our library by Mrs. Shepherd which we mentioned last week were: 2 Boys' Own Annuals, Chatterbox, The Scout Book for Boys, Highway Pirates, The Three Hostages, The Boys of the Otter Patrol, Once upon a time Animal Stories, A Boy Scout in the Balkans, The Last of the Plains Men, Kidnaped, Stories of Great Pioneers, The Boy Scout Aviators, The Spy, The Last of the Mohicans, Torn Sails, The Raiders, Dave Dashway the Young Aviator, Chesapeake Bay, The Little Duke, Autocar Handbook, and The Willoughby Boys.

We also wish to thank Mr. Pharey for another handsome addition to the library. He has given us the following books: Sherlock Holmes, Maca Ria, A Princess in the Garret, An Autumn Sawing, The High Heart, The Cartwright Gardens Murder, The Conquest of Mexico, Further Adventures of Captain Kettle, and The Last of the Plains Men.

We are therefore getting a splendid little library again and Scouts are and will appreciate it very much indeed.

The biggest shipment of foxes ever exported from British Columbia left Merritt on November 28th via Halifax en route to Gothenburg, Sweden. Twenty pairs of foxes, each pair in a specially constructed two-compartment crate, were shipped representing a $20,000 deal. William Crompton, of Lake View Fox Farm, was the vendor. G. Carroll, the purchaser, came over specially from Sweden to buy foxes.

J. W. Timson, manager of the Bellingham plant of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Beet Refining Co., in addressing the Chilliwack Board of Trade last week said he did not hold out any great hope of establishing a sugar beet industry in the Fraser Valley for some time. He said that the sugar industry was passing through a period of depression at present, with prices lower than they have been for many years. The demand for sugar and the high price obtained during the years of the war had greatly increased production. Now the volume of over-production is demoralizing the market, with the result that there was nothing attractive in the sugar industry at present.

1ST RUTLAND TROOP

"Do A Good Turn Daily"

Orders for the week ending December 15th:
The Troop will parade in the school basement on Friday, at 7.30 p.m.
Duty Patrol: Beavers.

Owing to a school party being held on the Friday, the Scout meeting was held on Thursday evening last. There was an attendance of 12 Scouts, including one new recruit, a former Cub, J. Mugford, who was placed temporarily with the Seals.

The "nominal roll" of the Troop now has 19 names on it, exclusive of the S.M. and A.S.M., but, owing to one thing or another, it has been impossible to get a 100 per cent attendance as yet this season, though we are hoping for it this Friday at the public Scout meeting, preceding the annual meeting of the Local Association.

Thursday's programme consisted of P.T. and games, relay races. Scout work in corners and basketball, Seals vs. Beavers, won by the former, 10 to 9.

A meeting of the Court of Honour was held at the home of the S.M. on Saturday evening, with the following in attendance: A.S.M. G. B. Harrison, P.L.s P. Ritchie, H. McIvor, T.L. Kenneth Bond, Second W. McIvor, Absentees were Second W. Sexsmith and K. Yamaoka. All the various appointments and transfers made during the past month were confirmed, and one or two more transfers made to even up the strength of the patrols. The following is the present alignment:

Beavers: K. Bond, W. McIvor, A. Duncan, W. Smith, L. Smith, R. Bush. Kangaroos: P. Ritchie, W. Sexsmith, S. Yamaoka, R. Kitch, J. Singer, L. Davies, J. Mugford. Seals: H. McIvor, K. Yamaoka, J. Sutherland, M. Levitt, C. Blenkin, Williams.

All three patrol leaders are planning to attend the Conference to be held in Vernon this coming Saturday, if transportation can be obtained.

Old Scouts

A meeting of ex-Scouts of the district was held in the Community Hall in conjunction with a basketball practice. A resolution was passed to form an Old Scouts Club, and a further meeting is to be held this week to elect officers. The members plan to have a basketball team this winter and are playing their first match on Tuesday against a team picked from other members of the R.A.C. The new club will take the place of the Rover Patrol, now defunct, the members having "roved" so extensively that it was impossible to carry on.

WOLF CUBS

The Pack journeyed to Kelowna for a return game of football with the Kelowna boys. Transportation was gained by way of the C.M.'s car and Mr. W. Hardie's, the latter's assistance being much appreciated. The local Cubs had the assistance of L. Williams, who really is a Scout now, having transferred since the previous game, but played again with the consent of the Kelowna Cubs.

The game was much more evenly contested, and the Kelowna team pressed hard in the first half, neither side scoring. In the last half the Kelowna boys ran into some hard luck, however, when one of their sidewarded off the ball with his hand, when Rutland was pressing into the home team's goal. The penalty kick resulted in a goal for us. Just before the close of the game one of the Kelowna backs added further anguish by kicking the ball into his own goal, much to the disgust of his comrades. The score really was fairly even on both sides. Weather permitting, we hope to have more games with the 1st Kelowna Pack.

A letter arrived recently from our former A.S.M. James Campbell, who writes of his experiences at Normal School in Victoria. Jim says he sees the "Courier" every week and always reads the Scout column first. This is not a common virtue amongst the present members of the Troop, who are often entirely ignorant of orders and other matters reported in the column. One of the encouragements in writing these notes, however, is the knowledge that they are read by former members of the Troop, now scattered in many different parts of the country, but who follow the doings of the Troop from week to week.

A. W. GRAY,
Scoutmaster and Acting C.M.

NO USEFUL PURPOSE IN DEEP PLOUGHING

Experiments At Ottawa Show No Material Increase In Crops

Deep ploughing appears to have little merit according to experimental work carried out at the Central Farm, Ottawa. There was no significant difference in the yields of either corn or oats by ploughing seven inches deep as compared with ploughing four inches deep of heavy clay and of sandy loam soils. Corn after sod on heavy soils gave precisely the same yield where the soil was ploughed four inches deep and where it was ploughed seven inches deep. On sandy soils the difference was so little as to be not worth considering, amounting to 20.69 tons after four inch ploughing and 20.90 tons after seven inch ploughing. Oats after corn on heavy clay yielded 55.1 bushels per acre where the soil was ploughed four inches deep and 53.5 bushels per acre where it was ploughed seven inches deep. On sandy soil the shallower ploughed land yielded 69.2 bushels and that which was ploughed deeper 64.5 bushels per acre.

Commenting on these results, Mr. E. S. Hopkins, the Dominion Field Husbandman, in his report for last year, published by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, expresses the view that there is apparently no object in ploughing excessively deep so long as the work is thoroughly done.

A fable for British Columbia
Housewives

SHE saw them in her kitchen—a host of elf-like men. A miller, a soap maker, a travelling salesman. A band of Lilliputians, each representing some one local industry in which her fellow men and women are employed.

Back of each local product she saw ambitious families just like her own. That is why she enjoyed a sense of pride and loyalty every time she purchased the products of her fellow men. In every room in her house she saw the vision of the elfine workmen, for the articles of her home from attic to basement were the products of her home land.

There's a moral to this story

Every time a housewife purchases a B.C. Product, B.C. husbands benefit. B.C. industries are kept active replacing the products purchased by local housewives. Every woman who knows the prosperity of British Columbia husbands depends on their wives asks first: "Is it made in B.C.?"

This is the sixth advertisement of a series authorized by the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade in the interests of the manufacturers of British Columbia.

RATION FOR DAIRY COWS

(Experimental Farms Note)

The individual qualifications of the herd are important points to consider when feeding concentrates to dairy cows. The feeding of expensive concentrates to a mediocre producer is at best a risky investment; on the other hand, certain cows in the herd, often without the owner being aware of it, would make profitable use of a daily allowance of concentrates, especially when these can be largely grown on the farm. High production cannot be obtained without the use of considerable concentrates, but profit is not incompatible with such an expense and it is a mistake to believe that high records are always achieved with a loss of money.By consulting the report of the Experimental Station of Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere for the year 1927, it is seen that the heavy milkers caused more expenses, but ultimately yielded more profit. For the benefit of the reader
the following statement of average production, income, feed cost and profit per cow has been compiled from the above-mentioned report:Lot 1.—Seven cows; average milk production, 12,542 lbs.; income per cow, $221.83; feed cost per cow, $100.27;
profit over feed per cow, $121.56.Lot 2.—Six cows; average milk production, 8,754 lbs.; income per cow, $147.72; feed cost per cow, $70.70; profit over feed per cow, $77.02.Lot 3.—Six cows; average milk production, 6,494 lbs.; income per cow,
$115.05; feed cost per cow, $60.75; profit over feed per cow, $54.30."Feed cost per cow" represents the value of the feed used. Butter was valued at 30 cents per pound and the skim milk at 20 cents per hundredweight.
The value of the calf was not included in the income.A glance at the statement will show that the profit over feed of the first lot was more than double the profit from the last one; in other words, it is more profitable to feed one good cow than two of average quality, and the use of concentrates is more profitable
in the first instance than in the second.
The "feed cost per cow" reveals that the feed cost increases with the production. There is nothing surprising in this, for can we expect that the cow
will manufacture milk from nothing?
After all, it matters little that the feed cost was greater if the cow returned more profit.In any case, the nineteen cows whose average production is recorded here
were fed according to their individual qualifications, and each one yielded a profit. It is easily surmised that the feeding practices of the first lot applied to the second and vice versa might have caused a deficit instead of a profit.
Therefore, the breeder must first know
the qualifications of his cows and then feed them accordingly.

FOOTPRINTS AS AIDS TO THE ANTIQUARIAN

(By Michael Compton) Footprints are a frequent aid to the detective in unravelling some new crime, but rarely do they come to the help of the antiquarian in solving the great mysteries of past ages. Quite a sensation was caused among learned societies by the clue of a footprint
which was found in London.

Workmen excavating near London Bridge first came upon the sole of a shoe in excellent preservation which plainly dated back to the days when the armies of Caesar were in the land,
and almost immediately afterwards
they found the foot-print, presumably of the wearer, who was obviously a Roman.

Few footprints of the men of olden days have been discovered, but our knowledge of the great animals which roamed ancient Britain has been greatly augmented from time to time through the clue of the footprint. Not far from the spot where the remarkable skull of a primitive, monster
man was found in Sussex some time ago, there were found prints which the experts affirmed were those of the massive iguanodon, the creature partly animal, partly reptile, which used to grovel
about the home countries.

A tortoise larger than the average hippopotamus might reasonably be supposed to have left its heavy foot marks
on the earth, and it was in Dumfriesshire that the clue was found. Distinct footprints of this creature were found in a quarry near Annandale in that county.

Elusive Impressions
The utmost care must be taken in interpreting these strange clues. They might prove as elusive to the scholar as human footprints have proved to great modern sleuth hounds of the law.

Vivid and well preserved impressions found in Cheshire provide a fascinating mystery. They are of an almost identical shape to the human hand and yet there is no other record of giants of such size having been among the population of this country.
The most favoured theory is that they are actually footprints of a weird animal which possessed feet like hands. A clever attempt has been made to reconstruct the creature of a mammoth toad, but this is admitted to be merely an interesting speculation. The clue of those footprints has only provided an unsolved mystery.

One of the surprises which scientific excavators in our own land meet with
is the extraordinary durability of man of these footprints from the remote past. We cannot imagine the tools of men of today going about making such firm impressions as to leave "footprints
on the sands of time."

Yet, when working in an old Herefordshire quarry, very firm and clearly defined prints were discovered which plainly showed the trail of some quite small animal. The clues were so clear that there was no difficulty in tracing where it had moved, and calculating its very slow and cumbersome steps. Yet it was equally plain that the creature was of no distinguished size. It was just heavy on its feet.

An Ancient "Tank"

One animal—we cannot be more precise—evidently moved with the ponderous certainty of a modern tank, and made its mark wherever it went. The mud and gravel was churned and clung to its mighty feet as it raised them, and it must have glided in walking in a mud. For the footprints found of it show also the excrecences and have, therefore, given the learned this clue to the mystery. But it led them no farther.
There is always hope that some sensational new discovery will enable us to complete the picture of this stupendous beast, and the quest proceeds.
Man, however, appears to have been almost as light on his feet as he is now.
True, at Ruthin in Denbighshire, they will show you the prints of the footprint of King Arthur in the Market Place.
But that is another story, and according to serious antiquarians and geologists, it is no more than a story.

The only well authenticated footprints discovered have been those of strange beasts, sometimes of mammoth proportions and sometimes normal. Apart from these, the three-toed footprints of a bird have been given grounds for the belief that once upon a time we knew something larger than the ostrich which was also much more sure footed.

OKANAGAN CENTRE

(Received too late for last week's issue)
A wedding of interest to many in the district was solemnized in the United Church of Canada, Cranbrook, at 11 o'clock on Wednesday, Nov. 21st, when Susan Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Whitford of that place, became the bride of Mr. Edward D.
Hare. They arrived in the Centre on Friday evening, where they will be at home to their friends.

Mr. John Towser and family motored down from their home in the Coldstream last Friday, Mrs. Towser and little son going south on the afternoon boat for a visit with friends at the Mission. Mr. Towser renewed acquaintance with many old friends at the Centre, being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson until Tuesday.

The last regular monthly meeting for the year of the Women's Institute will be held in the Community Hall on Thursday, December 6th, at 2:30 p.m.
Final arrangements for the children's Christmas party will be made and several important resolutions will come up for discussion.

Miss Wentworth, Mr. Cyril Wentworth and Mr. Bob Wentworth are moving this week from their ranch above the Centre to the lakeshore cottage on the Sun Dial for the winter months.

Mr. J. S. L. Logie, who had been spending the autumn at the home of his parents, left last week for southern California.

To date the minimum temperature
recorded at the local meteorological station is 31 degrees and many gardens are yet gay with chrysanthemums and snap-dragons.

OKANAGAN MISSION

There will be no Sunday School on Sunday, December 9th, as there will be a service in the church at 11 o'clock.

Don't forget the lantern slide services during Advent, beginning on Friday, December 7th.

Miss Jessamy Woodmass left for England on Monday, December 3rd, with Captain and Mrs. C. R. Bull.

All residents of the Mission who took advantage of Mr. P. B. Willis' and Mr. Mackay's kind invitation and went to see "The Whip" at the Empress Theatre enjoyed themselves immen-sely and were fortunate to be able to see such an exceptionally good picture.

A BELL LEGEND

At least two eminent historians of the seventeenth century refer to this story of a bell then in use in the village of Villila, in Arragon. During the process of casting this bell one of the thirty pieces of silver paid to Judas Iscariot was melted down with the metal. This accident caused the bell, after it had been hung, to develop a habit of ringing entirely of its own volition, which miraculous occurrence was said always to presage some national disaster, war, or a death in the Royal Family. Both writers agree that the bell rang, by itself, for three days without ceasing from Thursday, June 13, to Saturday, June 15, 1601, but both omit to record any unusual happening subsequently—thereby straining readers' credulity to breaking point.

GREAT IS THE INFLUENCE OF THE MOTION PICTURE

Silver Screen Plays Important Part In Spread Of Modernism

The motion picture, in its worldwide influence, has not fully been taken into account by the Frank J. Wiltchak in the Victoria Colonist. It has removed the fez from the head of the Turk and put a brown derby in its place. It has taken the queue from the Chinaman's head and parted his hair in the middle.

These examples are not wholly exag-gerations. The same thing, in one way or another, has been going on in all parts of the world. It was reported in China, within a brief period, that the natives are beginning to engage in the continental habit of osculation, and at the same time have given over thinking it bad taste for a woman to show her arms in public. Up to within a recent time the native was of the opinion that nudity and kissing, as seen in our photoplays, indicated in foreigners an extremely low state of morality. But the Chinaman is slowly changing his mind about bare legs, arms, backs and necks. He no longer considers them shocking indecencies. In short, the habits and ways of the descendants of Socrates Simpson of Kansas, thanks to the fortuitous influence of motion pictures, are winning their way in the Orient.

A traveller lately returned from South America reports that in Brazil
and other countries the California type of bungalow has come into general popularity. This architectural development is due entirely to its appearance in motion pictures made in Hollywood. It appears, also, that the California swimming pool has been copied here and there throughout the far reaches of the earth. A couple of years ago there was a picture made in California in which a beautiful swimming pool owned by a Pasadena citizen was used to pictorial advantage. "A gentleman in the South of France saw this picture of the pool and decided to have one like it. He communicated with the studio in California and was able to get still pictures of the pool, and the latter has been copied and is now one of the sights of the Riviera.

In the matter of styles, both in men's and women's clothes, the influence of Hollywood is multifarious. Take the case of Adolphe Menjou, for example.
He has an enormous influence with tailors over the world. Mr. Menjou's style in the cut of a coat, the pattern of a vest, his collars and neckties, indeed, every detail of his attire, are being carefully scrutinized and copied. That Mr. Menjou takes the matter of clothes seriously is indicated by the fact that he lately demanded $25,000 from a firm that sold neckties of alleged "inferior texture" bearing his name.

So great is the influence of the motion picture that every Hollywood studio receives daily a large number of letters from people asking where they may be able to secure duplicates of some articles, either of dress, furniture, or the like, that they have seen in a certain picture. This sort of thing often leads to amusing results. A Hollywood producer lately reported that he had made a picture, a slapstick cartoon comedy, that had in it a machine of which, for the detection of motion picture audiences, boys were chastised.
The picture showed a girl in tights
who stepped on a lever which released a cat, which chased a mouse, which nibbled a piece of cheese, which emitted fragrance which excited a small meter, which started the machine so as to spank the victim. It was one of those absurd devices that Rube Goldberg might create in a cartoon and which Joe Cook has made familiar in his vaudeville acts and revues. But as letter written in all seriousness, so the producer reports, came asking where the machine might be purchased.

It will hardly be said that the bathtub was virtually unknown to the Macedonian until one of Cecil B. De Mille's pictures revealing one of his amazing bathrooms, was shown in that country. It is claimed that Mr. De Mille's private bathing contraptions have an astonishing effect on these people. In brief, the bathtub is now a regular fixture in all new Macedonian dwellings, and while few equal the sumptuousness of those shown by the American photoplays, they are up to what are familiar in the average American home. It appears, then, that the motion picture is doing good work, thanks to Mr. De Mille's imaginative masterpieces and the California swimming pool, in the way of washing the world; and that it has taken literally the Biblical appeal, "Come over into Macedonia and help us."

The influence of the movies in Japan
has been reported as being a somewhat disturbing one. It is stated that the women of that country are not exactly what they used to be in the days before the arrival of the photoplay. It is even reported that there is a sizable party in Tokio seeking the suppression of movie pictures on the ground that they are putting dangerous thoughts into the heads of the women! Considering the popularity of the cinema, however, nothing of a bothersome nature is likely to occur. The woman of Japan has been in the past carefully taught that she is morally and physically incapable of initiative; that she is by the course of her sex a baby who must never grow up, and she ought to be the same sweet, charming, unspoiled creature that her mother was. Then came along the movies disclosing the fact that the women on the other side of the Pacific were independent; that they select their own husbands and make their own decisions. Once ideas like these get lodged in the feminine head, one can well imagine what ultimately is going to happen.

Salmon Arm curlers are impatiently waiting for ice. They have a big bonspiel to look forward to at which there is going to be strong competition. The date has been fixed for Monday, January 14th, when dozens of the keenest players of the province will arrive in Salmon Arm for a glorious week of play and joviality. Already inquiries have been received from Vancouver, Kamloops, Merritt, Revelstoke, Golden,
Vernon and Kelowna as well as places
nearer Salmon Arm than those points
mentioned.

There has been little activity in fishing on Okanagan Lake during the past week. Mr. J. V. L. Lyell caught a 15-pound beauty near the Eldorado Arms over the week-end, and Messrs. E. Dunlop and Goldsmith had very good luck in the lake during the early part of this week.

A cable has been received announcing the safe arrival of Mr. E. W. Wilkinson at his destination at Ashford, Kent, England. His many friends here were anxious as to the strain of the long journey upon him in his impaired condition of health, but the wire states that he stood it "comfortably."

Several cases were dealt with in the City Police Court recently. A pick-pocket was sentenced to serve fourteen days in prison for stealing a fountain pen from the pocket of a Chinaman; a man was fined $5 and costs for keeping a dog without a licence, and a Chinaman was fined $10 and costs for vagrancy. All fines were paid.

Small, of Okanagan Mission, was the nearest rival for premier place with a deer head measuring 31 inches from tip to tip of antlers.

The Palace Hotel is closed today. The work of altering the old building, the main floor of which will be transformed into a large and spacious dining room for the new hotel, has commenced. The Kelowna Scottish Dance Club held a successful supper and dance in the Morrison Hall on Friday evening, which was well attended and very much enjoyed. The St. Andrew's supper, which included oat cakes supplied by Sutherland's Bakery and scones and pancakes prepared by the ladies of the club, made a distinct hit with those privileged to partake of a typical Scottish repast. "Billy" Murray's orchestra, famous for its rendition of old Scottish airs, provided excellent music for dancing. The entertainment was an outstanding success socially and financially.

Marking the approaching close of the packing season for the year, the staff of the "B.C." house of the Kelowna Growers' Exchange on Tuesday presented their foreman and head packer with tokens in expression of their appreciation. Mr. Ward Rennie, on behalf of the staff, presented Mr. George Craig, foreman, with a handsome mantle clock, suitably engraved, and the girl employees evinced their esteem for Mr. "Tig" Clarence, head packer, by presenting him with a Parker Duofold pen and pencil set. The recipients of the gifts made suitable responses to the presentations.

Alterations which have been in progress at the Lakeview Hotel during the fall are now nearing completion. A hot water heating system has been installed throughout the building, and a large stone fireplace has been constructed in the rotunda. The dining room has been redecorated and attractive French doors have replaced the single door at the entrance from the rotunda to the dining room. French doors also mark the entrance from the street to the rotunda and have been installed at the entrance to the writing room. The altered rotunda now features an improved lighting system, while the work of redecoration in this room is almost completed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Kelowna Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. Mott, Abbott Street, on Wednesday, November 28th, at which Mrs. A. Badley made an interesting report on the conference of the Women's Institutes of the Okanagan and North Thompson District held recently at Salmon Arm. The meeting revealed that the sum of $77.46 had been collected for the purpose of aiding the Crippled Children's Hospital at Vancouver, and in view of this fact it was decided to increase the amount to $100.00, which sum will be forwarded to Vancouver for use by that worthy institution. Miss B. Shier gave a pleasing-musical selection.

All those interested in the invaluable work of the Red Cross are reminded that a meeting will be held in the Board of Trade Hall tomorrow evening (Friday), at 8 o'clock, to effect reorganization of the local branch, which carried on splendid work all through the war period. Ten years have passed since the war ceased against human foes, but the Red Cross has never ceased to wage battle against disease and distress, and Kelowna should again prepare to bear its part and to help the pioneers in the frontier settlements whom the Red Cross is endeavouring to provide with some of the nursing and hospital facilities that we, who are more fortunate, have enjoyed for many years. The societies of the organization at Vernon and Penticton have been resuscitated successfully, and Kelowna's reputation for generosity and kindly consideration for others will be at stake if it does not do equally well.

MARRIAGE

Ablett—Davis

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Douglas Alexander, DeHart Avenue, on Thursday, November 29th, at 2.30 p.m., when the marriage took place of Miss Edith May Harriet Davis, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Henry Davis, Kelowna, to Mr. Arthur Vincent Ablett, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vincent Ablett, Kelowna. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. K. McMinn in the presence of immediate relatives.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very charming in a dress of pale blue crepe de chene with ruffled neck skirt. She carried a bouquet of white roses and pink carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Bessie Gordon, wore a dainty frock of pale pink georgette and carried a bouquet of mauve and white chrysanthemums. Mr. Herbert Ablett attended his brother as best man.

Following a brief honeymoon, the young couple will make their home in Vernon.

Veale—Bowyer-Smyth

St. Michael and All Angels church was the scene of a very pretty and moral wedding on Saturday, at 2.30 p.m., when the Rev. C. E. Davis united in marriage Miss Evangeline Battye Bowyer-Smyth, eldest daughter of Mrs. M. M. Senior, of Kelowna, and granddaughter of the late Sir William and Lady Bowyer-Smyth, of Hill Hall, Essex, and Tavistock Court, Sussex, England, and Mr. Reginald John Veale, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John DeCoverley Veale, of Chemamus, Vancouver Island.

The bride, who was given away by her step-father, Capt. E. N. Senior, was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Babette Senior, her half-sister, and Miss Helen Hunter. The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Mr. Basil Bowyer-Smyth. As the bride entered the church the choir sang "Lead us heavenly Father, lead us," and during the signing of the register the choir rendered "O Perfect Love," which was followed by "My World," a selection beautifully rendered by Mr. F. A. Martin.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white silk velvet, trimmed with silver lace, and a veil of embroidered net. She carried a sheath of arum lilies. The bridesmaids were dressed in gold shot taffeta with headresses of gold silk net, and carried bouquets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Vernon Cole, Abbott Street, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion with ferns and pink and bronze chrysanthemums. A number of friends and relatives attended the reception, including Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Veale, Mr. Leslie Veale and Mrs. Basil Bowyer-Smyth, of Salmon Arm. A toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Mr. W. H. McDougall, to which a response was made by the groom.

TRUE STORIES THAT TAX CREDIBILITY

Remarkable Coincidences That Are Stranger Than Fiction

(By Carol Rolfe)

Coincidence played an amazing part in the deaths of two brothers at a hospital recently. They had both outlived man's allotted span of three score years and ten, when Richard, the younger of the two, was admitted into the hospital, he followed a day later by his elder brother. Although they had lived apart from one another, each ailed with the same malady, and were thus placed in the same ward. After many months of suffering the elder man died, and an hour later was joined in eternity by his brother. Remarkable though it is, this is but one of many examples of striking coincidences.

A curious story was once unfolded in a well-known police-court by a person asking advice of the magistrate. It was related how, one day, a watch was stolen from the appellant in a prominent London thoroughfare. Two years later, being in need of money, he entered a jeweller's shop and offered to sell his watch (which closely resembled the stolen one) and chain.

While in the course of conversation, the jeweller said that he had a very similar watch in his possession which might be bought for twenty-five shillings. On request, this watch was produced and the jeweller proceeded to open the case and show him the mechanism. Whilst examining the watch the man noticed that it was of the same manufacture as the one he had lost two years previous, and, indeed, the watch so closely resembled it that he felt compelled to examine its number. He then made the startling disclosure that the watch was the one that had been stolen from him. The jeweller, however, refused to surrender it.

A watch also played a part in another coincidence. A clerk pleaded guilty to stealing a watch and chain, and was sentenced to three years' penal servitude. When his clothing was searched by police officers, a clipping from a comic newspaper was found in his pocket. It was a humorous dialogue, and read as follows: Visitor: "How came you to be here, my man?" Prisoner: "Want." Visitor: "How?" Prisoner: "Well, I wanted another man's watch. He wasn't willing that I

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From the files of "The Kelowna Courier")

Thursday, December 3, 1908

"The first cold weather of the winter visited us on Sunday night, when thermometers in town gave 14 degrees of frost. Monday night was two degrees colder, while Tuesday showed a rise in temperature, 12 degrees being recorded. Wittup's pond is bearing, and the young folks are entering with zest into the enjoyment of skating and hockey while the cold snap lasts. The new cement curling rink has proved a great success in making ice quickly, and the first game was to be played last night. There is no snow and, while the nights are cold, the days are clear and sunny."

"The Okanagan Curling Association was successfully reorganized at a meeting held in the Lakeview Hotel last night. The following officers were elected: Patron, G. A. Henderson; President, E. R. Bailey; Vice-President, P. Murphy; Enderby; Secretary-Treasurer, C. C. McKee; Vernon; Executive Council: Geo. Bell, Enderby; Hamilton Lang, Vernon; J. Bows, Kelowna; R. V. Agur, Summerland; L. D. McCall, Peachland. It was decided to hold a bonspiel, the time and place to be fixed by the Executive Council."

should have it, and the Judge wants me to stay here for five years."

A Coincidence In Bank Note Numbers

A few years before the Great War, a gentleman received some $5 notes from a business friend. A month later he had only four of these notes left when the same individual paid him, further sum—also in $5 notes. On comparing the two sets of notes, it was found that the number on four of those just received coincided with the four remaining from the first transaction. The notes were not actually similar, as the small letters preceding the number were different, and of course, the date, but, nevertheless, it was a remarkable coincidence.

Death Follows Appropriate Text

The congregation of a certain Gloucester church were once horrified at the sight of their vicar flicking dead in the pulpit. He was preaching on the death of Captain Scott, the ill-fated Antarctic explorer, and had given his text: "He that saveth his life shall lose it; he that loseth his life for My sake shall save it," when he fell back dead.

Significance Of Numbers

Numbers have each a definite significance, astrologers tell us. The number 82, if we may take as an example the coincidences in connection with an old man who is buried in St. Pancras Cemetery, London. The age of both him and the clergyman who officiated at the funeral service was 82; 82 was the number of his residence, as well as the number of the interment order, and he now lies in grave No. 82. Another instance might be taken from the death of three brothers of the name of Burrows, each of whom died on the corresponding dates, but in different years. In 1907, two children, twins of a Stoke Newington labourer, died from the dual ailments of pneumonia and bronchitis, at the same house, on the same day and at the same moment.

A South African Coincidence

Perhaps the most extraordinary example of coincidences, or rather rather coincidences, comes from South Africa. It lies in connection with the discovery of six copies of the Johannesburg "Star" of September 3rd, 1889, by the very man who hid them over 36 years before. It appears that in 1889 a European brick-layer of the name of Medlin was employed in the building of the Grand National Hotel, Johannesburg. Being of a romantic nature, Medlin, while eating his lunch with his mates in the unfinished building on the 3rd of September, behoved himself of the idea of burying among the brickwork something which might be of historical interest on the demolition of the hotel. So, purchasing six copies of the "Star" from a news-boy, he arose from his seat and placed the papers between the woodwork and the wall of the room in which he had been sitting, soon forgetting about them.

Since then he led a nomadic life, fighting in the various South African campaigns, and was once buried beneath a heap of bricks and mortar—but was eventually rescued, though afterwards lived for about five months in a cast of plaster of Paris—and later emigrated to the United States of America.

After an absence of 17 years he returned to Johannesburg ostensibly for the purpose of a holiday, but, fascinated by its charm, he remained there.

Here starts the chain of coincidences. Medlin obtained employment as foreman from a building firm, who later secured the contract for the demolition of the old Grand National Hotel. By a stroke of fate the architect employed to design the hotel in 1889 was the one chosen to design the new building, and what is more, he and Medlin remembered conversing together in the unfinished building 36 years before. Thus, while superintending the demolition by coloured labourers, Medlin chanced to discover some carefully preserved copies of the "Star" wedged between the wall and woodwork of one of the rooms. Then, and only then, he recollected secreted them back in the "chinks."

What might perhaps be another coincidence is the fact that these papers contain an advertisement for a "monster sweep" which Mrs. Medlin, but for an irony of fate, all but won. It was in the times when people used to "line up" for their "sweep" tickets. Mrs. Medlin took her place at the end of the queue for this particular "sweep," when a gentleman in front of her, with a polite "Ladies first," insisted on her changing places with him. Later it was announced that he had drawn the first prize.

SWEDISH STAR IN "THE MYSTERIOUS LADY"

Greta Garbo Has Principal Role In Dramatic Picture

"The Mysterious Lady," the picture for Friday and Saturday at the Empress Theatre, features Greta Garbo, the Swedish screen star who achieved instant popularity playing opposite John Gilbert in pictures such as "The Temptress" and "Lolita." This picture is a dramatic and highly entertaining. Miss Garbo presents an alluring personality in the stellar role and her performance, in many respects, is unique. Further review of this picture would be inadvisable, as the nature of the plot should be disclosed only upon the screen. A Chaplin comedy entitled "The Rink" will also be shown.

"The Cop," the showing for Monday and Tuesday, is heralded as a thrilling picture. At any rate, it features two good artists in pantomime, William Boyd and Jacqueline Logan. Boyd is seen as a policeman in the underworld of New York and, in addition to Miss Logan, his performance is supported by Alan Hale and Robert Armstrong, young players of merit.

The story tells of the sinister operations of a band of crooks, culminating in murder, and of "The Cop's" untiring efforts to run the marauding robbers to earth. Thrills abound in action that is dramatic, swift-moving and intensely interesting. A fascinating group of screen characters are assembled in the picture: There is the sinister Marcas, half-likeable, half-despicable; "Mathie," quiet, easy-going, vigilant; the lovable old Sergeant Coughlin; Mary Monks, a thoroughbred running with the wrong kind; and lastly, Smithie, the cop, a great friend and a bad enemy. All are interesting characters.

"The Patriot"

Suspense—like that of a great detective story—marks the unfolding of Emil Jannings' latest starring picture, "The Patriot," which comes to the Empress Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. Plotting against an Emperor who hated that every man in his kingdom was under the direct surveillance of the police is the dangerous and exciting work which falls to the lot of Lewis Stone, who, with Florence Vidor, plays opposite Jannings in this picture. Laid in the court of the Czar, Paul the First of Russia, "The Patriot" brings a gorgeousness of production as a background for an enthralling story which has rarely been viewed on a local screen. Despite the fact that the audience is always conscious of an enormous palace, great numbers of soldiers, peasantry and the plains of Russia, attention is never once detracted from the handful of people used to tell an engrossing and fascinating story. Emil Jannings, as Czar Paul, gives a characterization which deserves to be placed beside that of his "Peter the Great" and "The Way of all Flesh," portrayals of which have made him one of the greatest pantomimists of all time.

Some attractive prizes have been obtained for presentation at the theatre during the present month. On Wednesday, December 12th, the following articles of merchandise, now on display at the store of Jernman Hunt Ltd., will be given away: Two Hudson's Bay blankets, four blue silk stockings, slippers and towels. On the 19th, a new Allen Parlor Furnace, purchased from W. W. Loane, will be awarded to the holder of the winning ticket, while on

REFRESHMENTS FOR HOLIDAY PARTIES

(By Barbara B. Brooks)

Holiday time is the most interesting season of the year in which to give a party. There is no difficulty in planning decorations because so many things are appropriate and the gift shops offer a wide variety of place cards and score cards if you do not have time to make your own. The hostess is in luck whose turn it is to entertain her bridge club in the late fall or near Christmas.

For a late fall party, an orange and yellow colour scheme is good. Chrysanthemums are in their glory, ranging in size from huge balls to tiny buttons and in colour from palest yellow to deepest orange. Candles may be used in shades to either match or be a contrast to the flowers.

The simplest kind of refreshments can be served attractively. The beauty of the tea table or buffet will be enhanced by the right choice of food. Tea served with slices of orange and lemon, tiny egg sandwiches and corn flake macaroons will carry out the colour idea. The bread for the sandwiches may be cut into rounds, diamonds or other shapes. Orange biscuits may be added to the menu or served instead of sandwiches.

Here is a more elaborate menu which is especially appropriate for an evening party: Welsh rarebit, buttered toast, thin strips of carrots, celery and olives, decaffeinated coffee and sunshin cake. If you have electric appliances, it is interesting to make the rarebit, toast and drink at the table.

We are giving the recipes for the corn flake macaroons and orange biscuits. The egg filling for the sandwiches is made by chopping hard boiled eggs and combining them with mayonnaise and seasonings. Make decaffeinated coffee according to your favourite coffee recipe. This is a drink which can be enjoyed by all your guests without being followed by a sleepless night.

Corn Flake Macaroons

2 egg whites.
1 cup sugar.
½ teaspoon vanilla.
1 cup cocoanut.
2 cups Kellogg's Corn Flakes.
½ cup nut meats (chopped).
Beat the egg whites until stiff, add the sugar gradually, then add the vanilla, cocoanut, corn flakes and nut meats.

Drop by spoonfuls on a buttered pan, and bake in a moderate oven (400° F.) until the macaroons are a delicate brown.

Orange Biscuits

2 cups flour.
4 teaspoonfuls baking powder.
½ teaspoonful salt.
1 tablespoon sugar.
2 tablespoons grated orange rind.
½ cup shortening.
¾ cup milk.

Mix and sift dry ingredients, add orange rind. Cut in shortening. Add milk to make a dough. Toss on floured board and cut in small rounds. In the centre of each biscuit place a small lump of sugar which has been dipped in orange juice. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) for about fifteen minutes.

December 26th, gift night will take the form of a treasure hunt, when $40 in gold will be given away. On January 1st, New Year's Day, a diamond ring and a gold watch will be presented to two lucky patrons.

A SURE SIGN OF CANADA'S PROSPERITY

Toronto's new and ever-changing waterfront is rapidly becoming one of the most impressive on the continent. It is not long since the Toronto City Hall (on the extreme left of the picture) stood alone, with here and there a church spire pointing up into the sky. Now it is almost hidden in a maze of giant buildings which have been erected during the past two years. Immediately to the right of the City Hall tower can be seen the Concourse Building in course of construction, while next to it is the lofty Sterling Building, and slightly in front of it can be seen the low tower of the old Toronto Union Station, one of the old relics of the Queen City, which is being torn down. To the right again is the new twenty-eight storey "Star" Building, and in the centre can be seen the Royal York Hotel, which is being erected by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The long building in the foreground is the new Union Station, while on the extreme right of the photograph can be seen the Royal Bank Building and the C.P.R. Building, which for many years were the tallest office structures in Canada.

GLENMORE

Mrs. Wm. Geary left on Monday with her son, Mr. Grant Geary, for Okotoks, Alberta, where she plans to spend the next two or three months.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. C. Henderson, whose marriage took place on Wednesday, Dec. 5th. Mrs. Henderson (nee Miss Christine Ferguson) was one of our first Glenmore children, having come to the valley in 1911. We wish them every happiness in their new life together.

The Ladies Guild of the Glenmore

Community Church, will meet on Tuesday, December 11th, at the home of Mrs. Corner.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Paige have left for Kamloops, where Mr. Paige will be manager of the Kamloops branch of the Union Oil Company. We are sorry to lose them, but wish them every success in their new sphere.

Mrs. Walter Spencer returned home on Saturday with her baby girl.

We read the forecast every day. We list to hear what others say. To test the wind we wet our thumbs. But after all we take what comes.

Our Jumbo Elephant Jordan Almonds, our Seven Crown Big Luscious Mollaga Clusters, our big three-inch Smyrna Pressed Figs and our Christmas Chocolate Packages—You'll say something equivalent to "REALLY RAVISHING."

Some of our Christmas stock is displayed in our windows but it would require half a dozen windows to do our full stock justice.

We are proud of our assortment. We bought the best we could buy. The values are exceptionally good and we want everybody to see our Christmas goods which we have displayed to the best of our ability all through our store. We would appreciate the privilege of showing you our many and well assorted lines.

SPORT ITEMS

BASKETBALL

Princeton Visitors Win and Lose

From the showing made by Princeton on Friday night against Kelowna in a Senior B exhibition fixture, the Similkameen boys will be strong contenders for provincial honours in their division. Withstanding a determined rally by Kelowna in the final five minutes, the visitors ran out winners 28-24. Princeton Intermediates, bolstered by several seniors, were no match for the local Intermediate squad, who showed flashy combination and, in the final period, literally rained in baskets, mainly through deadly shooting in which W. Chater, Pettman, and Griffith were conspicuous.

Princeton Seniors included McAlpine, former Sumnerland star, Ralph Thomas, Penticton, and Bill Lucas, of Kelowna, both members of last year's Victoria Normals, and Kelly Callahan, who pitched Princeton to victory in the Similkameen Baseball League. Callahan was by far the most polished player on the floor, his advantage in reach and smooth work at guard being a stumbling block to the local forwards. Kelowna won and lost the game in the first half, when they had a good deal more of the play, but poor passing, after taking a 5-2 lead, spoiled many chances to add to the score. McCarthy scored twice after taking passes from Loane and Pirie, but the visitors took advantage of rebounds to come in under the basket, where Lucas scored three times in this manner and Bontaine added another. Lucas went through alone for a pretty shot and, with free shots converted, the visitors had a 14-9 lead at half time.

The locals were outreached by the visitors and were unable to get in under the basket for rebounds, mainly due to the work of Callahan, while Lucas, who was unchecked for the greater part of the contest, was taking advantage of every opportunity to pick the ball off the backboard. Kelowna's passing was often at fault, and in the second half a great deal of individuality was shown, while a forward unchecked waited in vain for the pass. With the score 28-18 against them and four minutes of time left, the locals made their best showing of the game, as, pressing hard, they showed better passing and speed, McCarthy taking a rebound and Taggart sinking a long effort. Taggart came in fast for a pass, but the final whistle cut the rally short with Kelowna four points behind. The teams:

KELOWNA: Longley, 3; R. Taggart, 5; McCarthy, 8; Brown, 2; Loane; Cook, 2; Pirie, 4. Total, 24.
PRINCETON: Thomas, 5; Broderick; McAlpine, 2; Gill, 5; Callahan; Lucas, 14; Bontaine, 2. Total, 28.

Kelowna Intermediates Exact Ample Revenge

Kelowna Intermediates started off by a brilliant exhibition of passing (overdone slightly when, instead of shooting, the ball was passed under the basket) and breaking fast, the result was never in doubt. Chater, C. Pettman, and Griffith were the sharpshooters, with Taggart completing an effective forward line and Leathley and Griffith a strong combination on defence.

PRINCETON: Broderick, 4; Muir; Bontaine; Coles, 8; McAlpine; Taylor; Thomas; Lucas, 5; Garrison. Total, 17.
KELOWNA: Taggart, 2; Boyer; Chater, 15; Pettman, 10; Leathley; Poole; Weatherill; Griffith, 9. Total, 36.

"Turk" Lewis handled both games in an acceptable manner.

St. Mark's Falcons Here Tonight

Tonight (Thursday) one of the smartest Vancouver teams is billed to appear at the Scout Hall against the Kelowna Intermediate A squad, holders of the provincial Intermediate B title, who are favourites to retain their B.C. title in the higher divisions this year. Their showing against the visiting St. Mark's Falcons tonight will undoubtedly give a decided opinion as to the prospects of their second provincial title, as the visiting boys are one of the smartest fives turned out in Vancouver. For many years St. Mark's club has entered teams in various divisions, and invariably they have produced a provincial winner. Two years ago their Senior B girls captured the title when they won from Kelowna at Vancouver, and the Kelowna boys are determined to avenge the defeat of the girls when they meet the St. Mark's boys this evening.

The visiting Falcons were favoured to take the provincial title last year, but ran into a formidable aggregation in New Westminster Adanacs, who had accounted for several Senior A teams, and the Vancouver boys were forced to drop out in the semi-finals. Adanacs subsequently went to Kamloops to dispose of the Interior champions easily and win the B.C. title. Falcons have an enviable record, and this year won exhibition contests from some of the Senior B teams in Vancouver as well as being successful against visiting teams from Seattle.

On the other hand, the local boys have a smooth working squad, which will give many a senior team a beating, and their showing last week against Princeton makes them worthy opponents for the Vancouver boys. These Intermediate A teams (under 21) should provide real fast competition. In addition, Vernon is sending down their Intermediate B boys, and Vernon is noted for the strength of their junior teams, so that the programme should be a well balanced one.

Trophies For Past Season Presented At Smoker

Despite counter attractions, there was a good attendance at the smoker staged in the Canadian Legion club-rooms last week, at which the trophies for the past season were presented. Mayor D. W. Sutherland presented the Knowles Cup for the district championship to D. Oliver, captain of the winning Occidental eleven, the successful club retaining the championship won in 1927, but only after a thrilling race with the City club, the result being in doubt until the final scheduled match was played. The Mayor emphasized the work Mr. Knowles was doing for sport in his capacity as head of the Parks Board, the proposed seeding of Athletic Park, upon which a good deal of preliminary work has already been done, being one of the most important features.

President L. Hayes presented the challenge cup for the batsman having the highest batting average to A. Fleck of the City eleven, whose average was slightly above that of H. Peel of the Occidentals, and who also had the second highest score of the league season and the highest score without being retired.

Considerable discussion took place as to the grounds for use in 1929, and it was finally decided to use Athletic Park, provided the grass which it was proposed to seed was in shape to stand its use as a playing ground.

President Hayes also presented T. Wadsworth with a cricket cap in Occidental club colours for his services to the eleven during the past seasons. A musical programme, to which L. Hayes, W. J. Coe, G. A. Benmore and others contributed, was rendered during the evening.

The keen struggle for the district championship and the individual batting honours is shown in the following statistics furnished by Secretary F. M. Keevil:

Kelowna And District League

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Pts.
Occidentals	6	3	1	2	7
City	6	3	2	1	6
Canadian Legion	6	1	4	1	3

During the season the representative eleven engaged in seven matches, of which four were won and three lost.

Batting averages of players who participated in three innings or more:

Of The BRITISH EMPIRE SERVICE LEAGUE

In connection with the Christmas festivities, members are reminded that a subscription list has been opened at the Club for donations to the Christmas Hamper Fund, the appeal being made particularly to ex-service men. All donations will be acknowledged in this journal.

On each of the Saturday nights between now and Christmas, competitions will be held at the Club, commencing at 10 o'clock, when turkeys will be distributed to successful competitors.

An energetic committee are making arrangements for a big dance, together with a grand prize drawing to be held early in the New Year, with the object of raising funds for the new club building. The response for prizes has been wonderfully successful. This is going to be the biggest thing we have ever attempted and we want all members to help by selling tickets. Look out for more particulars next week.

2nd Kelowna Troop

"Ever Ready"
Orderly Patrol for next week: The Swallows.

Only two more evenings to work in our toy shop and then everything must be in readiness for Santa Claus. We want all our parcels wrapped and addressed by December 18th. There is still much to be done; Company, be at the Scout Hall on meeting nights at 7 o'clock, if possible. Remember the materials which you need for the special work you are doing and all help by bringing in interesting coloured pictures from magazines for the scrap books.

You will note that we have finally decided upon our Company motto, "Ever Ready," suggested by Patrol Leader Eunice Hayman and chosen unanimously by the Court of Honour. By our motto let us be known!

The Patrol Leaders and Seconds very much enjoyed Court of Honour round the supper table on Tuesday evening. We are making our plans for Company activities far on into the spring, for we have much to do once our Christmas efforts are over.

Our new tunic pattern is on hand now for those who wish to use it.
